

COMMUNITY HEALTH CENTERS OF RHODE ISLAND

Community health centers provide quality primary health care in 22 locations throughout Rhode Island. Health centers accept RiteCare and most other types of insurance and also see people who are uninsured on a sliding fee scale. They offer a wide range of services to adults of all ages and children. Contact each center directly for a list of services or call the Rhode Island Health Center Association at 274-1771 or visit their website at www.RIHCA.org .
